Rehearsals Start For First Play

The role of Doctor Tuttle in "The Two Mrs. Carrolls" is still open to any aspiring young actor or actress, announced Director Harold H. Ulrici yesterday.

With almost a full five weeks of rehearsal yet before presentation of this Martin Vale creation as the initial Hartnell College dramatics productions of the 1951-52 season, seven of the parts have been cast, and rehearsals have begun. However, the play cannot be presented without a Doctor Tuttle.

The role of Doctor Tuttle has been described by Mr. Ulrici as a none too large but an important supporting role. Although an experienced actor would be preferred, a novice would be welcome to attempt this important part.

Mr. Ulrici also announced that a sports announcer is needed for the Hartnell radio program, "College Is the Life." Anyone interested in either of these activities is requested to confer with Mr. Ulrici in Room 29 as soon as possible.

Student Help Needed On Lounge Project

The student lounge of Hartnell College is progressing right along. The draperies have been completed by the home furnishings class. Clyde Hazleton, Hartnell College student, is doing some of the upholstery, but could use more help particularly from the men. Fellows from the carpentry class at A and M are remodeling tables which need to be painted by any or all students. Painting will be done in the lounge. The more student co-operation we get the sooner the lounge will be ready to use.

Bonfire Rally Tomorrow Night

Two rallies will be held before the Placer J.C. football game. The first will be in the men's gymnasium Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be yells, a few numbers by the band, and entertainment by student talent.

The second rally, a bonfire, will be held in the vacant lot between the science wing and the Annex Saturday night before the game. The band, the yell leaders, and Tabby, the school mascot, will be there.

Following the bonfire rally there will be an automobile parade to the Salinas high school stadium where the Panthers will meet the Placer J.C. team.

Commissioner of Rallies and Assemblies Bob Peavy is in charge and is in need of help, especially for the bonfire rally. Anyone who has materials for the bonfire, a truck, or is just willing to help is asked to contact Bob Peavy personally or call 2-4658.

chased out of the Student Union Committee fund and donations given by the students and faculty. Smoking will be allowed in the student lounge.

Lemos Warns Student Drivers

At a recent meeting of the Salinas Traffic Commission and Police Department, along with members of the Roosevelt School P.T.A., some criticism was voiced regarding the thoughtlessness of some college students in driving at excessive speeds near the elementary schools. The most comment came from members of the P.T.A. at the Roosevelt School who felt that the lunch hour was a particularly dangerous time because of the heavy traffic conditions and the fact that children have to cross the streets at that time to go home for lunch. I hereby request all students of Hartnell College who drive cars to exercise more caution and consideration for both parents and children at all school crossings, particularly during the lunch hour.

PRES. J. B. LEMOS

RED CROSS BLOOD BANK HERE SOON

Monday, October 1, is the day the Red Cross Blood Bank will visit Salinas and welcome donations of blood from students and teachers of Hartnell College.

Students under 21 years of age must have a release signed by their parents. Release forms may be obtained in the main office. Appointments may be had by contacting the Red Cross or Room 9.

Dance After Placer Game

Football fans will have an opportunity to dance to the music of Pete Kelly's band Saturday night after the Placer J.C. game. The dance is being planned through the joint efforts of Lucy Papac and Sally McAnaney. They are representing the rally committee and the social activities committee, respectively.

The dance will be held in the women's gym immediately after the Placer game and will run until 1.00 a.m. Admission price for the affair will be 50 cents for stags and 75 cents for couples.

Pete Kelly's band is the same group that played for the freshman reception.

Enrollment Figures Drop

Some 557 students are enrolled at Hartnell College for the fall semester. This amount is considerably less than last year's enrollment of 646.

Further breakdown of the figures show there are 380 men students and 177 women students. According to classes there are 315 freshmen, 199 sophomores, and 43 special students. There is a total of 82 men at A and M.

Placer Squad Loses Last Game

Hoping for better results than met with last week at Modesto, the rejuvenated Hartnell Panthers tackle the Placer J.C. eleven in the first home game of the year, 8 o'clock tomorrow night at Salinas high school stadium.

Despite their unimpressive start the Panthers promise to give the Placerville squad a rough go. The Harts have been working hard all week, concentrating on conditioning, pass defense, and polishing up their offensive machine. If this offensive unit jells in the skirmish and doesn't "run out of gas," as it did last week, the Harts will definitely be in the game, contrary to the opinions of many local football filberts.

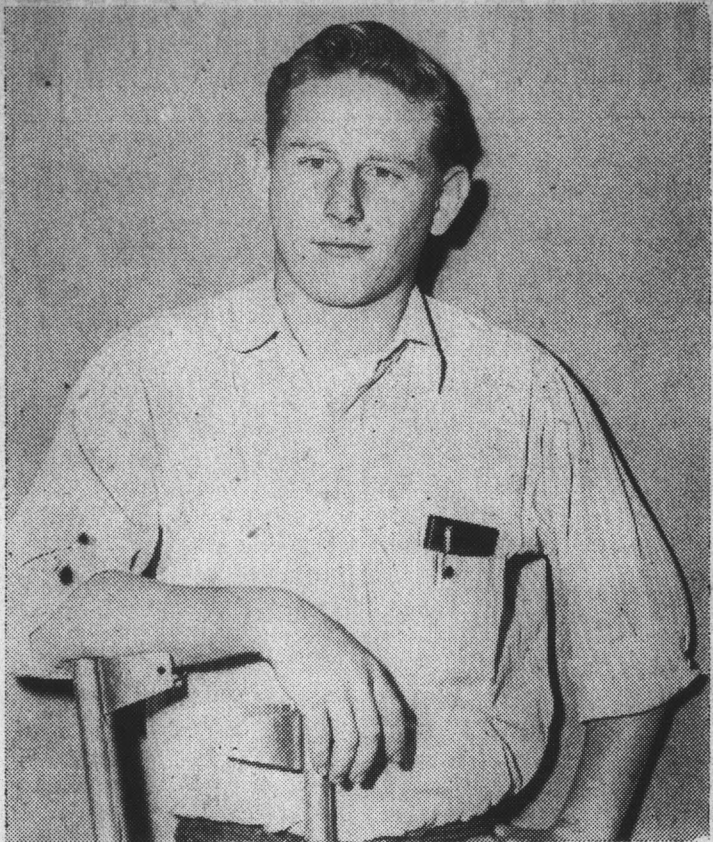

Little is known of the Placer team. They were smothered 42-0 by a powerful Stockton College outfit. However, Stockton is reportedly loaded and not too much faith should be placed in this score. Last year's Panthers absorbed their worst loss, 33-7, at the hands of this Stockton eleven and many of this team have returned to play this year. Placer, for a small junior college is said to have a fairly good team, paced by Bob Sinnok, athlete of the year of Placer high school and third string halfback on the All-Northern California selections.

Only a few men will be held out of action on injuries. Glen Winters, halfback, is out with multiple stitches over his eye, Bud Stubbs received a sprained ankle last Friday and will see limited action.

Korean Combat Veteran Enrolls at Hartnell

From the enemy infested hills and rice paddies of Korea, where the present battle against Communistic forces is being fought, to the quiet and serene campus life of Hartnell College is the change that Corporal Lawrence L. Lehr has made this year. Lawrence is the first Korean combat veteran to enroll at Hartnell College.

The change is, indeed, a welcomed one by Corporal Lehr after spending six months in the front lines with the United Nations forces in Korea.

"The extremes in weather over there, hotter than the San Joaquin Valley in summer and 20 below zero in the fall, were enough to make a fellow wish for good old California weather," related Lehr.

"The adverse weather conditions and malaria," Lehr continued, "place a heavy toll on the combat men in Korea."

Lehr enlisted at Los Angeles in September, 1949, and after a short indoctrination period at Los Angeles where he underwent basic and advanced training for an infantryman. Upon completion of his infantry training Lehr was selected for a leadership course. He completed this special training and was promoted to the rank of corporal.

In March, 1950, Corporal Lehr was ordered to duty with the occupation troops in Okinawa. He was stationed on Okinawa for three months then in July, 1950, he was assigned to the 27th Infantry regiment in Korea. On July 23, just two weeks after reporting to the combat zone, Lehr was wounded for the first time, in the posterior region, and evacuated to the hospital base in Japan to recover from his embarrassing wound.

Two weeks later Lehr returned to active duty with the 27th Infantry regiment in Korea and took part in the saving of the Pusan perimeter.

In the months that followed the saving of the Pusan perimeter the 27th regiment advanced from Pusan and took part in the first capture of Seoul. It then battled north to Pyongyang, advancing to within five miles of the Manchurian border. It was here that while on patrol with his squad, Corporal Lehr observed, for the first time without being shot at, Chinese Communist soldiers in an encampment across the Yalu River in broad daylight.

The Communist army broke through the Allied lines in the latter part of November and the 27th regiment was ordered to move south to the MacArthur line.

"It was midnight on November

29 as the platoons of infantrymen were moving southward, riding on the outside of the tanks, when an enemy mortar shell made a direct hit on the tank that we were riding on," said Lehr. All the men in the squad but Lehr were killed.

During the time he was being transported to the field hospital Lehr received frostbite on both hands and on his left foot. His right leg injured in the shell blast was removed at the field hospital in Korea.

After a short convalescent period in Japan, Lehr was returned to the United States to the Letterman Hospital in San Francisco. Later this year he was transferred to the United States Naval Hospital at Oak Knoll in Oakland where Lawrence was able to readjust himself to his handicap. He was released from Oak Knoll in detached service with the United States Army.

With a Purple Heart and Cluster in addition to the Bronze Star and Cluster decorations, Lawrence Lehr returns to school to study for a degree in accounting. The Bronze Star medal and Cluster received by Corporal Lehr was the only one of that kind to be presented to any of the officers and enlisted men of "K" Company in the 27th Infantry regiment until Lehr's transfer to the United States.

Lawrence is majoring in business at Hartnell College. Spanish and mathematics and typing are his favorite subjects. The remainder of his units this semester are being used to make up his high school deficiencies. Lehr attended George Washington High School in Los Angeles.

This week Lawrence threw away his crutches to use his new leg. "I hope they spray some hair on it to make it look real," quipped Lehr. Lehr has been driving his own car between Santa Cruz, his home, and Hartnell but as soon as his new leg is "broken in" he expects to use the school bus.

Lawrence and his wife, Dolores, reside at 2-1681 East Cliff Drive in Santa Cruz.

Field Day Set For October 10

Field Day at Hartnell College every year determines by athletic competition whether the freshmen will discard their "dinks" or continue wearing them for another two weeks. Last year the sophomore class racked the freshmen in the field events and took first place in the Whiskerino and Ribbonero contests. Barbara Johnson won the prize for the largest ribbon and Bud Chase won the award for the blackest beard.

Men's Club President Jack Albert reports that October 10 has been set as the date for the Field Day this year. Field events will include softball, tennis, volleyball, and wheelbarrow race. The final event of the day will be the traditional tug-of-war and mud brawl.

There will be good eating for those that attend the Field Day activity, advised Mike McCann, chairman for dinner committee. Chicken will be the main course with cokes and ice cream for dessert.

Business Grads Get Jobs In This Area

As a result of having taken civil service and other examinations while attending Hartnell last year many business students received interesting positions with federal, state, and county agencies.

Now working at Fort Ord as stenographers are Anna Elkington of Salinas and Marilyn Kwock of Watsonville.

Marian Kwock of Watsonville is employed at the Monterey Naval School as a stenographer, Kay Panteles of King City is a clerk-typist at Camp Roberts, and Jennie Swank of Soledad is a clerk-typist in the warden's office of Soledad prison.

Employed as secretaries in San Francisco are: Violet Ichikawa of Salinas, at the Presidio; Marjorie Wilkinson of Soledad, at the army engineers' headquarters; and Farrell Moore of Salinas at F.B.I. headquarters.

Now locally employed by appointment of Monterey County are Sally Smith of Salinas, stenographer, civil defense office; Victoria Soria of Salinas, stenographer, county home economics division of the Department of Agriculture; Drusilla Alvernaz Imwalle of Watsonville, stenographer, county surveyor's office; Joanne Swenson of Salinas, clerk-typist, county welfare department; Mary Manteufel of Castroville, bookkeeper personnel department; Lois Ogden of Watsonville, bookkeeper, county agricultural department; Anne Shiratsuki of Salinas, stenographer, county district attorney's office; Anita Turpin Bowen of Salinas, clerk-typist, county library.

International Club Has Members From Around the World

New members were welcomed to the International Club by Mr. Vahé Aslanian, Hartnell music instructor, at the club's first meeting of the year held last Friday. In a well-coming speech to the large gathering of old and new members, Mr. Aslanian pointed out the purpose of the club and briefed the members on the forthcoming activities.

With only a third of the club members native-born Americans, the foreign students have a chance to acquaint themselves with the American way of life. The American students benefit also by familiarizing themselves with the foreign students and their stories of life at home.

The club will meet twice a month and all foreign students and interested American students are invited to join.

W. U. Offers Teletypewriter Training Now

Western Union is offering to Hartnell students an opportunity to "learn while you earn" as teletype operator trainees.

Related courses may be studied at Hartnell during the morning while afternoons are spent in on-the-job training.

There is a great demand for teletype operators; over 30 machines are located in the Salinas Valley.

Prerequisites for such training include rapid, accurate typing and precise spelling. Applicants must pass an examination, and agree to three months' employment with Western Union after their period of training.

Dean Claud Addison of the Occupational Division may be consulted regarding the Western Union training program as well as jobs available between 4 and 8 p.m.

Newman Club Discusses Religion

Father Deegan, Newman Club advisor, outlined the purpose of the organization at a recent meeting of the club.

Introduced to new members were the officers elected last spring. They include Mike McCann, president; Tony Laniago, vice-president; Roberta Binsacca, secretary; Ray Bloyed, treasurer; and Bill Kie-pura, Interclub Council representative.

Under social activities the club made plans for a dance following the Menlo-Hartnell football game on October 20. A reception for new members is also in the offering for October.

Last Wednesday the club met to view a movie of Ireland filmed by Father Deegan on a recent trip there.

Three Graduates Win Scholarships To Universities

Three 1951 graduates of Hartnell College have been awarded scholarships to continue their studies.

Beverly Carlson of Salinas is the recipient of a tuition scholarship to Stanford University. This award, annually given to a local high school student, was presented to Miss Carlson by the Salinas Valley Stanford Club when a high school student failed to qualify.

President John Lemos, Dr. B. L. Borough, and Dr. Luella Hall were instrumental in arranging for the scholarship to be presented to Miss Carlson.

The California Elks Association has awarded Bonnie Hearn of Watsonville a one-year scholarship to an accredited physical therapy school of her choice in California.

Jerry Skillicorn was awarded a scholarship to the University of California. Skillicorn was active last year as president of the Interclub Council, was chairman of the annual carnival, and held championships in tennis and badminton.

Henrietta McKeague, her brother, Hank, and Jimmy Akimo, former Hartnell College students, are now entertaining with their trio in a Honolulu night club. Hank has also written a number of Hawaiian songs which have been published.

Music Lovers To Hear Quartet

Music Club members of Hartnell College will journey to Carmel on the evening of October 2 to attend a concert by the renowned Paganini String Quartet.

Four Stradivarius instruments, each over 200 years old and formerly owned by Paganini, have been entrusted to the quartet and will be used for the concert.

Kenneth Lowe was elected Interclub Council representative from the Music Club at their first meeting last Monday. Other officers will be elected at an October 1 meeting. Plans for a concert at Hartnell will also be discussed.

Accomplishments Of Canterbury Club Reviewed at Meeting

Canterbury Club's first meeting of the school year was held last Wednesday noon under the direction of Dr. B. L. Borough, club advisor.

Doctor Borough reviewed the accomplishments of last year's club: Four boxes of clothes were sent to students and professors in England and six boxes of books were sent to students in the Philippines.

Refreshments were provided by faculty members of the club.

TOPS IN BOP

By JOAN and "BUBIE"

Here's a crazy little number that's going over great: Johnny Hodges' "Castle Rock." Johnny was with the king of cats, Lionel Hampton, and you can dig his latest disc in our coffee shop.

Another real fine disc is that real gone "Sixty-Minute Man." This tune really sends Tom Welch, just ask him?

For the slow touch, "Because of You" rates highest.

Mr. B. with that ever favorite, "I've Got My Mind on You," puts you in a sentimental mood.

Our latest platter goes out for Anthony Copriviza, "Jealousy."

From the girls to Harold Harri-man, "Hey Good Looking."

Still another dedication, to Anna Beth Bird "from da boys," "Flying Home," by Lionel Hampton.

Last but not least, "Black and Blue" for the freshman class, or better yet, "Detour," if no dinks! "Like it's been with you,"

Origin of English Bible Subject Of Student Speech

"How We Got Our English Bible" was the title of the speech given before the Hartnell Christian Fellowship on October 19 by Frank Bates, Hartnell business student.

Mr. Bates' address was taken from a lecture by Francis Stifler, editorial secretary of the American Bible Society. The part played by Wycliffe, Chaucer, and Tyndale, early English literary and religious figures, was told.

It is largely from the English or King James versions that the Bible has been translated into 1,062 languages. The first King James version was published in 1611 and for 100 years has been a best seller.

Hartnell Christian Fellowship is a chapter of the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship, a worldwide organization. Mr. William Bullis, club advisor, extends an invitation to "all Christian students who are interested." The organization meets each Monday and Wednesday in Room 17.

Three Teams Top Noon Volleyball

With the intramural volleyball season a week under way three teams have forged to the front. Results up to Tuesday, September 25, find the Gassers, Ramblers, and Faculty on top of the league with one win and no loss record. Spectators are invited to attend these noon contests and root for their favorite teams.

CAMPUSOLOGY

Ads for Sale: Did all of you faithful readers see the big advertising spread in our monarch of the weeklies (Panther Sentinel) last week? The grand total was 64½ inches worth of ads, all solicited by three diligent students named Joyce Hodge, Paul Parsons, and William Kellar—the advertising staff for the fall semester of 1951. Reason for this comment: last year it took an ad staff of nine students to rustle up 56½ inches of advertising for Issue No. 1. That isn't so bad, but then neither is the total of our three-man staff this year.

Our success story of the week concerns one of last year's part-time authors of this piece, Elmer "Fudd" Anderson. Elmo is now making good in the movie business. That is, he is now working as manager of the P&D theater, and assistant manager of the Hi-Ho. Campusology congratulates its former creator—which brings to mind the fact that the creator of our present-day Campusology is not, as many believe, our editor. To give you a clue as to the present writer's name, just delve in the staff box for a name which begins with letters matching two of the consonants in the title RAJAH. If the name is that of a sophomore staff member, you have it!

OLD WOOD NEEDED: No, the Student Lounge furniture doesn't need repairs, but Commissioner Peavy has to light a fire. The bonfire rally can't have a fire unless spirited students contribute old trees, desks, skeletons from the attic, or teachers from the basement to burn tomorrow evening before the game. The inflammable material should be left between the Annex and the science wing (says a story on Page 1).

La Reata Staff Organizes For 1952 Annual

Work has commenced on the 1952 edition of La Reata, Hartnell College yearbook. Freshmen, sophomore, and class pictures have been scheduled and are being taken.

Hawaiian Cabash Sent Hartnell College By Mothers of Islanders

The newest addition to the trophy case is a gift from the mothers of the Hawaiian students who have attended Hartnell the past few years. The bowl, or cabash as it is known in the islands, is a traditional gift of friendship. The cabash was sent to Frank Paz, last year's president of the Hawaiian Club, late last spring.

During the past few years several Hawaiians have come to Hartnell each year. The gift was sent by the mothers of these students.

Hartnell Drops Inaugural to Powerful Modesto Squad 27-0

Whitewashing Caused by Weak Hart Air Defense

Displaying a fine combination of a strong air and ground attack, the Modesto Pirates smothered the Panthers with a blanket of four T.D.'s, good for a 27 to 0 score on the valley eleven's gridiron, Friday, September 21.

The predominant factor for the whitewashing in the season's inaugural was the Harts' feeble pass defense. The Hartnell forward wall was impregnable on running defense, until Quarterback Mickey Ulloa spotted the weakness on passing. Immediately the clever signal caller warmed up his flipper to the extent of a late first period score. Ulloa and Sub-quarterback Jerry Florey continued to make it rough the remainder of the evening, filling the air with well-aimed passes. This tossing threat facing the Harts opened up the Modesto running game in the second half.

The first T.D. came late in the first quarter on a pass play from Ulloa to Keith Grieve, speedy end, good for 39 yards. The score remained the same, and it looked as though the half would end 7-0, when, with 30 seconds left to play, Florey flipped another aerial to Grieve who had streaked behind the defense for six points. Modesto continued their ruthless attack in the second half, scoring in both quarters, one on a 30-yard pass play and the other on a beautifully executed Ulloa bootleg, after a pass had set it up on the 20-yard line.

The Panther offense, spearheaded by hard-running Lynn Norum, Arnold Carillo, and Don Ikeda, started out as a house-afire but bogged down inside the 20-yard stripes. The scoring threat was definitely lacking. The Panthers did manage to move to the 5-yard line in the second quarter, but a penalty followed by a fumble extinguished the possible scoring chance. Peaches Valli had trouble getting his passes away with the Pirate forward wall crushing down upon him; consequently three Panther passes were intercepted and fumbles were also frequent.

NORUM RUNS HARD

Despite the one-sided score, the Harts showed possibilities in several aspects. Norum proved himself to be a driving, twisting plowhorse fullback; he ate up 84 yards from scrimmage, good for a mighty 6.3 yards-per-try average. Jack Brooks, Sonny Borges, Lou Bertelli, Herk Ferario, Art Froley, and Tom Grant all played outstanding ball in the line. Randy Blair played a heads-up game at safety for Hartnell. Ikeda and Carillo, although small, at times showed great running finesse.

Hart Cage Squad Begins Practice

Despite the fact that the gridiron is now the stage in the sporting world, the Hartnell cage team is hard at work with preseason practice.

Head Coach Ed Adams announced that fifteen boys have been working out for the past two weeks in the college gymnasium. This early start will give the basketballers ample time to iron out the wrinkles from the yearly layoff.

Fundamental drills and eye-sharpening have taken up the majority of the time spent on the hardwoods. The team is coming along very fast and could be a strong contender for the league title. Veterans back from last season are Bob Ballard, who has been groomed to take Fred Willson's center spot; Tom Welch, Bob Steinbach, Wayne Crook, Keith McIntosh, Mike Melnyck, and John McGuire.

New members include Tony Russo, Nick Kralj, Watsonville; Bob Adams, Bob Hawkins, and Paul Heinrichs, Salinas; Stan Herrman, Bob Thompson, King City; and Bob Swan, Honolulu.

All men interested in trying out for varsity basketball are urged to report immediately to Coach Adams.

The College of Sequoias Giants scored their first victory over Bakersfield J.C. since 1929 September 21, coming from behind to defeat the visitors 20 to 0.
